ATTACK

Will Be Made On Attorney General Turner's Ruling By Opponents

OF THE TWO PROPOSED AMENDMENTS

Prohibition and Limitation of Referendums

OPPONENT'S ARGUMENT'S

Cannot Be Mailed Out By Secretary of State According to Turner's View, and Secretary of State Will Be Mandamused to Send These Out Against Prohibition Amendment.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM]

Columbus, Sept. 27.—Opponents of both the proposed prohibition amendment, and the amendment to limit the submission of questions by referendum today, prepared to attack the ruling of attorney General Turner, that arguments against such proposals cannot be mailed out by the secretary of state.

A. Julius Freiburg of Cincinnati, counsel for the National Wine and Spirits Association, announced he expected to file a suit in supreme court probably tomorrow to mandamus Secretary of State Hildebrant to send out arguments against the prohibition amendment.

Simultaneously Herbert S. Bigelow of Cincinnati, chairman of the initiative and referendum defense commission, made an engagement with Attorney General Turner in an effort to secure a modification of the attorney general's opinion, so that the secretary of state might distribute arguments against the so-called "constitutional stability amendment."

Mr. Bigelow declared the I. and R. defense committee was willing to pay the cost of this distribution.

Former attorney General T. S. Hogan, whom the I. and R. defense committee announced it had engaged to enter suit to test the validity of Attorney General Turner's ruling, was out of the city, today, and no further move was made on his part to prepare such a move.

WOULD TRY TO UNITE MEN OF ALL CHURCHES

[ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM]

Ocean Grove, N. J., Sept. 27.—Plans virtually were completed for a campaign to unite the men of all churches in an effort to extend Christianity under the direction of the laymen's missionary movement. At a conference held here under the direction of the board of foreign missions of the Methodist church, preparations were made for a series of meetings of the laymen of all churches to be held in 75 of the largest cities of the United States.

Speakers from the churches of all denominations will address these conferences and some of the leading missionary bishops have been recalled from abroad for that purpose.

HURRICANE IS NOW SWEEPING TOWARD GULF

[ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM]

Washington, Sept. 27.—The West Indian hurricane sweeping northward through the Carribean, narrowly missed Jamaica and apparently is advancing today toward the extreme western end of Cuba, and the Yucatan channel. Whether it will continue northward and reach the gulf coast of the United States the weather bureau is unable to say.

The storm center this morning was near the southwest of the Isle of Pines.

Gales and cooler weather have attended the lake storm which today had advanced to Newfoundland. The high winds and cold were felt on the middle Atlantic and New England coasts and it is much cooler today in the Ohio Valley and the Lake region.

TURKS SUBSCRIBE TO GERMAN LOAN.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM]

Constantinople, Sept. 26.—Via London, Sept. 27.—A large number of Turks, all of moderate means, subscribed an aggregate of nearly $500,000 to the third German war loan as an expression of sympathy for Germany. Virtually all the subscriptions were for small amounts.

RUMANIA TO BULGARIA.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM]

Rome, Sept. 27.—Via Paris, Sept. 27.—The Turin correspondent of the Idea Nazionale says he has been informed the Rumanian government has sent to Sofia, a note couched in friendly language asking an explanation of Bulgaria's military preparations.

MINING ENGINEER ON ADVISORY BOARD

William L. Saunders.

William L. Saunders of Plainfield, N. J., who has been appointed to the United States naval advisory board, is prominent in mine engineering circles for his many inventions. He designed and patented apparatus for subaqueous drilling, using the tube and water jet system now in general use. His rock drilling and quarrying devices, track and bar channelers, the radical axe system of coal mining and the system of pumping liquids by compressed air, now extensively used in the Russian oil fields, have given him high rank as an inventor of merit.

FRENCH CLAIM A BIG VICTORY IN CHAMPAGNE

ALONG ENTIRE FRONT, WAR OFFICE REPORTS DECISIVE ADVANCES MADE

While All Positions Previously Occupied Have Been Maintained—Official Announcement.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM]

Paris, Sept. 27.—The new offensive movement is continuing along the entire front in Champagne. The war office announces today that further German positions had been occupied. The announcement also says that all gains in the Artoise region in northwestern France have been maintained.

There is intense cannonading between the Meuse and Moselle and in Lorraine on the part of both the allies and the Germans.

The text of the communication follows:

"In the Artoise district we have maintained our positions.

"To the east of Souchez our advance previously reported as having reached the destroyed telegraph line to the north of Thelus, has not, as a matter of fact, passed the orchards of La Folie, and the highway from Arras to Lille. This advance, however, has been at all points maintained.

"Along the front to the south of the river Somme, there has been fighting with bombs and torpedoes in the vicinity of Andrechy. Our artillery has vigorously counter-attacked the batteries of the enemy which were cannonading our positions at Quennevires.

"In the Champagne district the fighting has been going on with tenacity along all the front. We have occupied at several places notably at Troubricot, to the north of the Wacques farm, several positions in the rear of our new lines where certain detachments of the enemy had been able to maintain themselves.

"The previous statement that we had captured 200 German officers is erroneous; we have taken prisoners 300 German officers in the Champagne district.

"Between the Meuse and the Moselle and in the Lorraine district, there has been severe artillery fighting on both sides. A violent storm in the Vosges has for the moment suspended all operations in this district."

AN AGREEMENT WITH BANKERS ON BIG LOAN

HAS BEEN VIRTUALLY REACHED ON ALL THE PRINCIPAL DETAILS

And the Anglo-French Commission Will go to Chicago With Eastern Financiers.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM]

New York, Sept. 27.—Having reached a virtual agreement with bankers of the eastern section of the country over the details of the proposed half billion credit loan to be established to Great Britain and France, members of the Anglo-French financial commission, accompanied by the members of J. P. Morgan and company, arranged to take the 2:40 train this afternoon for Chicago. Lord Reading, chairman of the commission, heads the party which expects to remain in Chicago several days, returning the latter part of this week. Basil B. Blackett, secretary of the commission, and two other members were to accompany Lord Reading. The identity of these two members, it was said early in the day, would be announced shortly before their departure.

CHICAGO BANKERS MAKE PREPARATIONS FOR COMMISSION.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM]

Chicago, Sept. 27.—Chicago bankers were making preparations today to receive members of the Anglo-French commission who are to arrive tomorrow to discuss with Western bankers the credit to be established in the United States for foreign exchange. Some bankers expressed surprise that the negotiations with Eastern bankers apparently had been concluded so soon, the general impression here being they said, that the question would not be settled until the latter part of the week. The Chicago bar association also planned to be hosts to Baron Reading, lord chief justice of England and his associates during their visit to Chicago.

RAIN DELAYS CIRCUIT RACES AT COLUMBUS

[ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM]

Columbus, Sept. 27.—Because of heavy rains which fell last night and early today the Monday card for the grand circuit races was postponed until tomorrow.

Austria Complies With Wishes of United States In Dumba Recall Matter

[ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM]

Washington, Sept. 27—Austria has informally notified Ambassador Penfield that it will recall Dr. Dumba, the Austrian ambassador to the United States as requested by President Wilson.

This information was given to ambassador Penfield when he informally advised Austrian officials on instructions from Washington that the U. S. sought the "recall" of Dr. Dumba and would not be satisfied with his departure on leave of absence.

Mr. Penfield was assured that the wishes of the United States would be complied with and that a formal note on the subject would be handed to him soon.

Until the formal expression is in the hands of the state department officials, they cannot act upon the ambassador's request for safe conduct. Dr. Dumba had engaged passage on the steamship Rotterdam, due to sail September 29, but it is not known whether arrangements can be made in time for him to leave on that date.

Officals here refused to comment on the situation.

TURKISH REPORT.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM]

Constantinople, Sept. 27.—Via Amsterdam and London.—The following official statement was issued tonight at the Turkish war office:

"On the Dardanelles front, near Anafarta, our reconnoitering detachments of the right wing captured rifles and ammunition. Saturday our artillery shelled the enemy's camp.

"Near Ari Burnu we exploded a mine. On the left wing, our artillery shelled the enemy bomb throwers."

Germans' Defenses Crushed By Onslaught of Allies, Who Capture Miles of Trenches

MACKENSEN PHOTOGRAPHED WHILE PURSUING RUSS IN POLAND

Arrow Points to General von Mackensen.

General von Mackensen, the famous German commander who has been supporting General von Hindenburg's left wing since the German drive against Russia, is shown here in a picturesque scene. He and his aide-de-camp (at extreme right), followed by a Death's Head Hussar, are wading through a small stream in northern Poland, to obtain a personal observation of a stiff rear guard action of the Russians against the Germans.

French Zouaves Charged With Fixed Bayonets And Carried German Position

[ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM]

Paris, Sept 27.—Reports from the front say that only twenty minutes was required for the French infantry to complete the victory prepared for by sixty hours of violent shelling and overrun the first line of the German trenches north of Perthes, in Champagne. While awaiting the moment for the attack the French soldiers rested behind their lines, joking and putting their arms in perfect order. The bright glow from the slow burning illuminating rockets and the glare of exploding projectiles lighted up the entire zone of action during two nights.

"After a few hours of intense fire our hopes that our batteries were dominating the situation were transformed to certain conviction," says a wounded officer who took part in the battle. The moment for the attack was set for dawn. When the charge was sounded whole battalions reinforced by reserves, bounded forward. The rush was so impetuous, that the Germans still alive and unwounded in the battered works seemed dazed and unable to resist. They were disarmed and pushed back for our reserves to pick up while the attacking line went on.

"There was little or no musketry. The bayonet did most of the work. The proportion of dead and wounded, and prisoners was large. What was left of entire companies threw up their hands at the seight of the deadly execution by the Zouaves.

"The general impressions of wounded men brought from the field near Perthes was that this is only the beginning of the French effort. Parisians received news of the victory soberly. The newspapers issued unusually large editions and official bulletins were read from the stages of the theatres last night, the orchestras playing the marseillaise. There were no other public demonstrations."

BOOKWALTER

SPRINGFIELD MILLIONAIRE AND PHILANTHROPIST DIED IN ITALY

Was One Time Democratic Candidate for Governor of Ohio—a Great Traveler.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM]

Springfield, O., Sept. 27.—John W. Bookwalter, philanthropist, extensive farmer and prominent citizen, known all over the country, died at San Remo, Italy, Sunday morning, of bronchial pneumonia. A cablegram was received here this morning. He had extensive farms in Nebraska.

Word was sent to the relatives and representatives of Mr. Bookwalter in this city by Carl Shinn, of Beatrice, Nebraska, manager of Mr. Bookwalter's vast landed estates in Nebraska and Kansas. Mr. Bookwalter was born near Rob Roy, Ind., in 1839. He was the head of the Leffel Water Wheel company of this city, and in possession of extensive real estate holdings in Springfield and Clark county. He was famed as a world traveler and writer on scientific agricultural, economic and political subjects. For many years he was a resident of this city before beginning his travels which extended all over the world, and was at one time candidate for governor of Ohio, on the Democratic ticket.

Springfield citizens for years have felt the beneficence of John W. Bookwalter, who gave extensively of his millions to alleviate the sufferings of his Springfield neighbors. Several years ago he gave a large sum of money to the city for distribution among the poor at the time the Associated Charities and city officials were struggling to meet the crisis which had come with the hard times and an unusually severe winter.

LONDON MARKET FELT EFFECT OF ALLIE'S VICTORY

[ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM]

London, Sept. 27.—More carefulness and strength were displayed today in the stock market than for some time past. Trading was influenced by the buoyancy of the Wall street market and by the beginning of the long expected offensive movement in France and Flanders, the demand was distinctly better with the idea that the present low level of securities will not be duplicated again. The movement was assisted by the belief that further news of a favorable character may be expected shortly.

British securities hardened perceptibly. American stocks were $1 to $5 above Friday's close.

PRESIDENT WILL VOTE AT PRIMARY.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM]

Washington, Sept. 27.—President Wilson will go to Princeton, N. J., to vote at primaries tomorrow for the New Jersey legislature. He will return to Washington in time to address the Grand Army of the Republic encampment tomorrow night.

British and French Forces, In Two Days' Time, By Terrific Bayonet Charges, Have Gained Greater Results Along a Larger Portion of the Western Front Than They Did In Preceding 12 Months

FORMIDABLE BREACH IN TEUTONS' LINES IS MADE

And the Advance Has Been General, Which is Emphasized By the Fact That Russians In the East Have Won a Striking Victory Over the Austrians and Germans In the Southeastern Theater of War—Central Powers May Soon Be Compelled to Choose Upon Which Front to Concentrate Their Immediate Efforts.

The tremendous struggle on the battle front in the west inaugurated Saturday with the new offensive movement by the entente allies has resulted in further successes for their arms. Paris reports today that additional German trenches have been occupied in the Champagne district where in their initial drives the French penetrated the German lines along a front of 15 miles to a depth reaching in places as much as two and a half miles.

All the gains made in the Artoise section where Souchez was captured and other advances scored, have been maintained, the French war office declared. On the eastern front Russians seem to be holding their own and doing better in some sectors. Their resistance around Dvinsk is stronger, while they are desperately battling with the Germans near Vileika ,and Smorgen. Petrograd reports new successes east of Novo Grodek and to the north of Pinsk, with the taking of several hundred prisoners and some machine guns.

Rumania in a note couched in friendly terms has asked the Sofia government for an explanation of Bulgaria's military preparations according to information reaching Italy.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM]

London, Sept. 27.—In two days the French and British have gained greater results than in the preceding twelve months of fighting since the battle of the Marne. With upwards of 20,000 German prisoners in their hands and something like 30 guns, without counting machine guns, and with a formidable breach in the German line, the allies apparently have their long expected offensive movement well under way. The advance has been general and its effect is emphasized by the fact that on the Eastern front, a substantial gain for Russians is recorded.

Petrograd states that the army of General Ivanoff has won a striking victory over the Germans and Austrians in the southeastern theatre, where 10,000 prisoners are said to have been taken.

The Belgians also are taking a prominent part in the new offensive movement. Their official announcement reports the character of a German post on the right bank of the Yser, with the consequent evacuation by the Germans of adjoining trenches.

It is believed in London that the new move in the west will again bring the Germans face to face with the necessity of making a choice between the two fronts, as was the case earlier in the war. Military writers point out that the Russians are now holding the Austrians and Germans on a front of 700 miles, while the presence of nearly 2,000,000 strongly entrenched Germans has failed to prevent an advance in France. This, they say, might increase the perplexities of the German general staff and react immediately on any plans which may have been formed for new attacks in the south or southeast.

The feeling of optimism in London is enhanced by the political effect which the success of the allies appears to have had on the Balkan states. Dispatches from Sofia indicate that Bulgarian diplomats are eager to convince the allies that mobilization of the army was not prompted by hostile motives.

The latest official news from Petrograd is interrupted here as showing that Russians are distinctly in a better position. This seems to be true even in the region of Dvinsk, where Field Marshal Von Hindenberg has concentrated his efforts perhaps at the expense of the southern front.

The German attack now seems to be slackening.

Notwithstanding the successes of the allies, England is not blind to the fact that it will be no light task to attempt to push the Germans from positions honeycombed with trenches. Now that the allies have passed to the offensive, they have before them a problem, the serious nature of which is fully recognized here.

CAVE-INS

LIKE THAT IN NEW YORK LAST WEEK WILL BE HEREAFTER PREVENTED.

Parts of Broadway Closed While False Construction Under Streets are Being Examined.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM]

New York, Sept. 27.—To prevent cave-ins by the false roadway covering miles of subway construction throughout the city similar to those of last week, when portions of the Seventh avenue and Broadway street surfaces collapsed, portions of Broadway and other main thoroughfares were closed to traffic today and engineers began a close examination of all the timber street surfaces now covering the new subway excavations. A preliminary inquiry had convinced the city officials that there was likelihood of a repetition of the disasters of last week, involving possible further loss of life. Workmen were engaged today in reinforcing the shorting sustaining the false roadways at points of heaviest traffic in Broadway at the intersection of heavily traveled cross-town streets.

A committee of engineers appointed by Mayor Mitchell began today an inspection of all the subways now building throughout the city. Construction experts summoned from Boston, Philadelphia and San Francisco by the public service commission were expected here as soon as possible to make a comprehensive survey of all the subway work and recommended to prevent further accidents.

Miss Stone Fell Into Lake, But Mr. Carl Meyers Jumped Just in Time to Rescue Her

While Mr. Carl Meyers, the well known mail carrier, and Miss Florence Stone, one of the popular and pretty clerks of Carroll's store, were rowing at Buckeye Lake yesterday afternoon, Miss Stone fell into the water. As she sank Mr. Meyers sprang over board. A few swift strokes brought him to Miss Stone's side and tightly clasping her with one arm, he swam back to the boat and managed to lift her to safety. Several hundred people stood upon the lake bank near Buckeye Lake park and witnessed the thrilling rescue, while a dozen friends of Miss Stone who had accompanied her to the lake earlier in the afternoon almost fainted upon the pier while the rescue was in progress.

If any one doubts the assertion here made let him or her go to the Alhambra theatre any day or night next week. Unless the film is damaged in the making the thrilling rescue of Miss Stone will be depicted upon the scene. A McHenry film man "happened" to be present when the mishap occurred and he feels sure that he got the whole picture on the film.

Miss Stone is "Ruth" of the Alhambra amateur moving picture company and Mr. Meyers is "Henry," the best man.

Two other scenes were enacted at the lake yesterday, one being the getaway of Henry and Ruth in a rowboat, the other the excitement created among Ruth's friends in the Man Haters' club when they see Ruth going away in a boat with a real man.

Several good pictures were taken at Warren S. Weiant's home Saturday afternoon, among them being an exciting automobile chase wherein Henry and Ruth get away from the throng.

Yesterday's pictures were taken just before the rain fell. While the sun was obscured the reflection from the water aided the camera man in his work.

"I'm getting nearly through," said Director Bennage to an Advocate man. "Only ten more scenes are to be taken, just about a day's work with clear weather. This includes the marriage scene. Perhaps Mayor Bigbee will officiate, and if not the mayor then Justice Fletcher S. Scott. I'm told that both of these men are adept in pronouncing the marriage ceremony."

If Ruth had not been the prime instigator of the club and if she had not brought all the members of the club together for a common cause and if she had been an unattractive girl, more commonplace than beautiful, had she not looked too long at one spot, which happened to be the eyes of a "perfectly American" young man and had she not finally decided to say "yes" the story would never have been written.

Then after saying "yes" had she not only been foresighted during the preceding six months of her life the elopement would have been unnecessary; her frightening an even dozen of her best friends nearly to death would never have occurred; it wouldn't have been necessary for her to climb out of a second-story window thereby risking her neck and the future happiness of "the only man"; nor would it have been necessary for her sweetheart to rescue her from Buckeye Lake when she fell overboard, and she might have lived just as happily ever after" anyway, no one knows.

But in any event, all these things and an even two score more occurred to "Ruth," president of The Man Haters' club, in less than—oh, an awfully short time. Quick romances, you know, are all the rage just now so Ruth, when she finally "fell for a man" (even though a handsome, dashing, cavalier sort of individual) she fell hard. And Cupid is such a treacherous character.

"No, that will never do! Hold your head up. Smile, smile—why can't you smile. You love the man and you are going to marry him." "Smile—that's right, hold it. Your head this way just a little, please; talk to her, Henry. TALK TO HER. MAKE her love you. YOU want her MORE THAN ANYTHING ELSE IN THE WORLD—Tell her so. That's it—now keep it up. Now Nemo (Miss Hazel Athey), come quietly, raise the leaves just a little, you're "snooping," you know. That's right—walk a little faster. Talk to HER Henry. Use your EYES—fine. Now, Miss Athey, HOLD IT. Steadily all—keep talking. Now Miss Athey, hurry for the girls. All right—CAMERA!" And with that the camera man, Mr. Ricardo began to grind.

"That scene was perfect," professionals couldn't do better," said Director Bennage as Miss Stone (Ruth) and Carl Meyers (Henry) and Miss Hazel Athey (Nemo) finished one of the scenes in the Alhambra moving picture, "The Man Haters," which is being produced for the Alhambra theatre in Newark with an all-amateur cast.

"Now, girls, all get settled. This is a regular club meeting you know, just the same as you would have at any time. Miss Besuden you take the center position at the table, Miss Hayes you are to stand over here and be ready to receive the message. Miss Wooles and Miss Siegel you take these places. Over here for you Miss Athey. Now watch me and listen to what I tell you. * * * Now, we'll go through with it and then the picture.

"Now remember, girls, full of life, ginger and pep. This is REAL, you know. All right, Rick, focus. On stage a little, Miss Athey. Now girls once more through it, then for the final. No, no, NO! Not that way; like this. Watch me. (More instructions and at last perfect.) All right now, get set, all of you—ready Miss Besuden, ready Miss Stone, all of you ready—now watch, all right—one—two—three—CAMERA. That's it—smile, girls, talk to each other—heads up—don't laugh too much; there HOLD IT—all right Miss Athey. ALL EXCITED NOW, EVERYBODY! On stage, Miss Jennings ON STAGE! That's it; "Where did she go,"—"Where did you see Ruth,"—"With WHAT Man, Who is He,"—"Which way did they go,"—Not so fast there—HOLD IT—Just a Minute Now—NOW Go—OFF STAGE EVERYBODY—Go—(That is only another of the many scenes of the Alhambra photoplay which was enacted at a Granville street residence Saturday.

In several of the Newark scenes enacted the past two days, Mr. Warner Devoe of the Newark Telephone company, has taken part and in one of the automobile scenes taken Saturday, Miss Elsa Hirschberg, Miss Edytha Hall and Mr. John A. Ward are seen. Owing to the cloudy weather this morning Director Bennage was unable to work, but the sky cleared towards noon so as to permit out of door work this afternoon. It is probable, however that all of the remaining scenes will not be taken before tomorrow.

BANKER'S WIFE, AT CENTERBURG, DRINKS POISON

Centerburg, Sept. 27.—The condition of Mrs. L. M. Daily, wife of a local banker, who is in a Columbus private hospital, shows little change from Saturday, following her alleged attempt at suicide the day before when she swallowed a solution of bichloride of mercury. She informed her husband almost immediately and prompt action by physicians, it is believed will rid her system of the poison.

The cause of the act is a mystery, the family refusing to give the woman's reason which she announced to the family soon after taking the poison draught. The family insists that there is no domestic difficulty and it is intimated that ill health was the reason.

Mrs. Daily is about 33 years old, and has a small daughter.

WHY OLD BACKS ACHE

Many Newark Old People Have Found Backache to be a Sign of Kidney Weakness.

What a pity that so many people past middle age are worried with lame backs, aching kidneys, poor eyesight, sick headaches, dizziness, gravel, dropsy or distressing urinary ills. Kidney weakness brings these discomforts in age or youth, and is a dangerous thing to neglect for it leads to Bright's disease and uric acid poisoning. Doan's Kidney Pills have brought new strength to many Newark old people. You will make no mistake by following Mr. Pritchett's example.

P. B. Pritchett, 406 Wilson street, Newark, says: "I had kidney trouble and wore a plaster all the time. I tried any number of medicines for lumbago and weak back. It remained for Doan's Kidney Pills, however, to cure me. For years now, I have had a strong back and although I am nearly seventy-five years old, I can stand a lot of strains on my back. Doan's Kidney Pills also cured me of getting up at night. This trouble hasn't annoyed me since."

Price 50c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. Pritchett had. Foster-Milburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y.

AUTO PARTIES ARE INTERFERED WITH BY BAD WEATHER

Sunday would have been a glorious day for auto parties but the weather man had to step in and interfere. But then everyone has become so accustomed to his whims that they pay little attention to him. As it was the several hundred cars of pleasure seekers who left this city before 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon got caught in the rain and those off the state highways and macadam roads were forced to get out and put chains on the rear wheels of their machines.

The rain came down in torrents, starting about four o'clock and it was general over the county. It continued to fall until after seven o'clock and the continued intermittenly throughout the night. About nine o'clock the temperature took a sudden drop and at midnight it had reached 47, a difference of 35 degrees in ten hours. At 6 o'clock this morning it registered 50 and during the day there were several mists. The prognosticator for this vicinity promises colder weather tonight and states that it will continue cloudy Tuesday, not a cheerful prospect for the county fair which opens its doors to the public tomorrow. However, it may clear up before the day is over and the fair officials may be greeted with pleasant weather for the balance of the week.

Silent Circle Notice.

STOCK PRICES SOAR ON THE N. Y. EXCHANGE

[ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM]

New York, Sept. 27.—Shares and the stock of other companies participating in contracts with the allies soared to new heights in today's uprush of prices. The movement was the broadest of any witnessed since the outbreak of the war and carried the general list with it. Latest developments in the western theatre of the war constituted one of the strong factors of the rise.

Baldwin Locomotive was the most permanent feature, advancing in the first hour to 106 1-2, a gain of 11 points over Saturday's record. The demand for this stock was attended by rumors that the company is to be absorbed by one of the largest industrial corporations whose war contracts have tested its capacity beyond limit. Other specialties making high records included Cruicible Steel, up 5 1-4, Republic Iron and Steel 5 3-8, and Lackawanna Steel rose 1 to 80. Distillers securities and U. S. Industrial Alcohol, whose products are said to enter largely into the manufacture of explosives also rose appreciably with minor advances in former speculative favorites.

U. S. Steel, whose foreign business is said to show an enormous increase by reason of the European conflict, rose 1 1-8 to 73 1-2, its highest price since 1912. Railroads gave promise at the outset of assuming a place of importance but failed to keep pace with the demand for industrials and equipments although showing a strong undertone.

Trading in the first hour reached the total of 450,000 shares, the largest volume of business recorded since the reopening of the exchange last December, and seldom if ever exceeded in recent years.

JUSTICE SCOTT IS PRACTICING RING CEREMONY

Justice Fletcher S. Scott presided at the marriage Saturday evening of a couple desirous of entering the holy bonds of wedlock. The groom requested that the ring ceremony be used and handed the justice a handsome gold wedding ring. It was Mr. Scott's first wedding in which he had been requested to use the ring and after performing the ceremony and coming to the place where he thought it appropriate he pulled the little band of gold from his pocket and placed it upon the bride's finger. Those who have participated in the ring ceremony will acknowledge that Justice Scott was a little out of order but some of his friends insist that he was merely getting into practice for a future occasion.

DATES NAMED BY BOARD FOR REGISTRATION

Thursday will be the first registration day for all new voters and others who have moved from one precinct into another. The registrars will be on duty from 8 a. m. to 2 p. m. and from 4 p. m. to 9 p. m. Other registration days will be Oct. 7, 15, and 16, and the hours will be the same as on Thursday. It is important that every one who contemplates or who has moved from one precinct into another be sure and register if they do not wish to lose their right of franchise.

The Hot Weather Health-Habit

is easy to acquire if you only know how. You cannot cool the body with ice-cold drinks that give only temporary relief. Get the hot weather health habit by eating

SHREDDED WHEAT

It does not heat the blood, but supplies the greatest amount of body-building nutriment with the least tax upon the digestion. Cut out meat for a few days and eat Shredded Wheat with fresh fruits and you will experience a mental buoyancy and bodily vigor beyond description.

Shredded Wheat is ready-cooked and ready-to-serve. No kitchen worry, no servant problem. Eat Shredded Wheat Biscuit for breakfast with milk or cream; serve it for luncheon or supper with berries, sliced peaches, sliced bananas or other fruits.

Old Furniture Made New

The picture shows you haw to do it. A can of our famous Spar-O-Lac, a proper brush, and anybody can do it. A glossy coat of hard finish on half worn furniture sets the whole home aglow with renewed youth at a trifling cost.

9 VETERANS ON DENISON'S '15 ELEVEN

COACH LIVINGSTON HAS AMPLE MATERIAL FOR THIS SEASON'S TEAM.

But Two Positions to be Filled From New Candidates—Followers Looking for Best Season in Years.

Granville, Sept. 27.—Denison football stock is selling around 351 on the local market and threatens to pass the latest quotations of Bethlehem Steel. Brokers are almost broke, having sacrificed all their principal and interest at Beaver field for the past ten days in watching Coach Livingston drill his eleven for the initial contest of the season next Saturday with Marshall college here.

There are manifold reasons why Denison football stock should rise so high; first, because a perfectly good football cannot disregard the force accelerated by a perfectly good leg swinging pendulum like and thudding against the oval when moving its swiftest, but the principal reason is because there are but two places on the Big Red team to be filled this season.

Thiele, at left end, and Rupp, at right half, are the two main instigators of the wonderful jump in Denison stock. It is remembered by football fans that Thiele and Rupp were almost universally selected last year on the All-Ohio eleven, an exceedingly aristocratic and snobbish gridiron club. Both of these gentlemen are showing up well in practice.

Besides Thiele and Rupp, there will be nine other regulars. After 10 days of regular and irregular workouts on Beaver Field, the principal item of note is that there will be a line, a heavy line this year, which will remedy the chief defect of the Denison team of last season.

Coach Livingston has so much excellent material that he is somewhat undecided at present how to knit the best line. Meredith, tackle of last year's freshmen aggregation, apparently is the best man out for left tackle. He is six feet two inches tall and weighs around 200. Along with Barrington, left guard, 168 pounds; Stankard, center, 164; Clary, right guard, 190, and Willis, right tackle, at 162 Denison should have a wonderful set of forwards.

All of these men had experience on last year's eleven. However, nothing definite in the way of regular jobs is in sight. Critz, a 218-pound lineman, may win a regular place at center or a tackle.

On the ends of the line will be Thiele at left, and Brock at right. This is the third year for Thiele on the flank, while Brock will serve his second season. Shock has been subbing at Brock's end for the past few days as the Dayton gentleman is just recovering from a slight attack of tonsilitis.

Ladd, captain, is calling the usual varieties of numerical combinations from his old place at quarter. His trio of yard winners will likely be Decker, left half, Shorney, fullback, and Rupp, right half. Rupp is averaging about 40 yards on his punts and doubtless will be relied upon to hoist the oval out of danger.

PHILLIES AND RED SOX ARE PICKED AS PENNANT WINNERS

As the 1915 baseball season draws to an end it's beginning to look more every day as if Pat Moran's larruping Phillies and Bill Carrigan's red hose warriors will be the contending teams in the baseball classic which will have its annual setting the early part of next month. Only a miracle could defeat either team.

Independent Football Team Starts Season With Victory; Squad Has Weight With Speed

The Newark (independent) football team Sunday afternoon defeated the Wyandots of Columbus by a score of 43 to 0 before a fair-sized crowd which braved the threatening weather and journeyed to Wehrle Park. A part of the game was played in a light rain and towards the finish, the field and ball became water-soaked and efficiency of both teams was impaired.

In this game the Newark team outweighed its opponents but this did not prevent Capt. Orr's men from showing much ability. Though heavy, the team showed much speed and the ability of the ends and back field in getting behind the enemy's line to receive the ball via the air route was classy.

A splendid interference has been developed and with a little more practice in regular games, will perfect the movements of the machine to such an extent that the team will be a formidable foe for any semi-professional or college team in the state.

Sunday's attendance was not as large as is expected later in the season. Arrangements for the game were not completed until Saturday and there was little time for advertising. The attendance was satisfactory however, and indicated that there is much interest in good football in Newark.

Between halves, the traveling bag offered to purchasers of season tickets was awarded to "Jake" Winters, 161 South Fourth street.

Captain Orr won the toss of the coin and chose to receive the ball, defending the south goal. The first kickoff by Morgan was received by Orr, on the 10-yard line. Orr returned the ball twenty yards before being downed.

Two plays by Hager and Keyes gained 25 yards before Newark lost the ball on Orr's fumble. Columbus was unable to gain on two plays and the ball was punted to the 20-yard line, Orr receiving it and returning it five yards.

Newark tried all formations in advancing the ball. End runs netted the biggest gains of 15 to 25 yards. Line plunges usually resulted in gains of but five yard or less.

After eight minutes of play, Keyes went through the line for a touchdown. Claytor failed on an attempt at goal.

Columbus developed a weakness in receiving kicks. Hager's kickoff was fumbled by Ebberts and Hager, who followed the kick closely, fell on the ball on the Columbus 20-yard line. On the first play, ground was lost when Hager was tackled behind the line. This was quickly regained by a splendid forward pass from Orr to Davis, who received the ball behind the goal line and planted it behind the posts, in one minute's time. Claytor's goal was true and the score was increased to 13 points.

After the kickoff, following the second touchdown, Columbus showed a better offense and in three plays, gained their only first down in the first quarter, which ended with the ball in the center of the field and in possession of Columbus.

When play was resumed, Claytor intercepted a forward pass, and the same play attempted immediately afterwards by Newark failed when Orr was tackled behind the line before he got the ball on its way. Hager regained the lost ground with a 20-yard run around the end. Orr made a spectacular play when he started round left end, only to switch suddenly and circle the other flank for a gain of 15 yards. Newark suffered her first penalty on the next play when she lost 15 yards for hurdling.

Working the ball well towards the Columbus 20-yard line, Newark executed another splendid forward pass gaining 22 yards and a touch down. Orr tarted the ball and Davis received it. Claytor failed to kick goal, the score being 19 to 0.

McCarty, Keyes, Orr and Hager advanced the ball steadily on a series of plays which was varied enough to keep the Columbus line guessing as to the next point of attack. Newark suffered another penalty of 15-yards for holding, as the procession approached the Columbus goal. Columbus intercepted a forward pass and after one slight gain time was called for the second quarter's end.

Newark made a number of changes at the beginning of the third period, to give all members of the squad an opportunity to get into the game. Long, McCarty, Hinger, and Rarrick replaced Keyes, Davis, Jenkins and Williams.

The ball was soon in Newark's possession on Ebbert's fumble and with a short distance to go it was soon covered, Kiley going through the line for a touchdown. Claytor failed, leaving the score 25 to 0.

Columbus punted almost immediately after receiving the second kickoff. Advancing the ball to the 20-yard line, with a series of flank plays, Orr made a pretty aerial pass to Hager, diagonally across the field, Hager received the ball behind the line for a touchdown. Failure to kick goal made the score 31 to 0.

Columbus was unable to make any impression on the Newark line and the third quarter ended with no ground gained.

McCarty got the ball on a fumble when play was resumed and Kiley and Orr carried the ball to the danger zone, Kiley going over for a touchdown. Hager failed to kick goal. Score, 37 to 0.

Soon after the ball was in play again, Newark was penalized 15 yards for offside play and Orr was called upon to punt, driving the ball 40 yards. Ebberts missed it and the ball was again in Newark's posession. It was advanced to the Columbus 1-yard line where the visitors put up a stubborn resistance. Columbus punted but the ball was quickly returned, McCarty being used frequently. Orr went over for the last touchdown and again the attempt to kick goal failed. With the score 43 to 0, time was called before the ball was put into play. Line-up:

Jobs and gizzards fill two of the several aching voids in the state administration.

The modern definition of a cattle show is a place where they race horses before a grand stand filled with farmers.

The price of gasoline is raising, but some people will offset it by cutting down on their Sunday morning pew rents.

Mr. Bryan has advertised his Washington residence, and has not so far as heard from made any inquiries as to renting the White House.

The slate and slate pencil are banished from the modern sanitary school, but the children can still lick their lead pencils to make them mark better.

Five thousand American young men are said to have enlisted in the European war, although they might have stayed at home this fall and played football.

About this time Mother is persuaded that the boys can't be expected to do any work about the house, as they have to study half an hour after school.

Not content with placing a lawyer at the head of the state insurance department, the governor has just named another member of the profession as state inspector of workshops and factories.

To some people the autumn season is chiefly notable for its fine sunsets, brilliant foliage, and poetic suggestions of eternity, and to others chiefly because it is the climax of the pie season.

Attorney General Turner is getting to be as expert as that famous authority, Wade Hampton, in turning out flapjack decisions to assist the state administration in its various enterprises.

Governor Willis cut down expenses in the state board of agriculture through reducing salaries about $10,000. His new appointees being in office less than 30 days lost $20,000 in conducting the state fair.

Less than sixty days elapsed since the partisan state board of agriculture came into being. It has already all but exhausted the appropriation for traveling expenses for the year besides creating a deficit of more than $20,000 in running the state fair by issuing free passes.

The hosts of labor have a true friend in the person of T. J. Duffy, member of the state industrial commission. Refusing to compromise with the interests seeking to destroy the work he has helped to accomplish and being told that his opposition was "only butting his head into a stone wall," which might cost him dearly in a political way, he answered: "There are some things that are dearer to me than my party or my position." And Mr. Duffy's consistent record for those who work shows what is dear to him.

Ohio's Attorney General.

Not in a decade has the office of the attorney general of Ohio been so mis-used as it is by its present holder, Edward C. Turner. Starting with promise of giving good account of himself, Mr. Turner has developed into the merest partisan, issuing rulings at command to bolster up the faults and short-comings of a failing administration, and to furnish means for various parts of that administration to take advantage of the voters and the taxpayers to perpetuate itself in office and to thrive while in office. In the matter of the extravagant Panama-Pacific Exposition commission, the attorney general has gone a long way round to explain that whiskey and bon bons are groceries, and that a suitable entertainment building having been built, ergo suitable entertainment must be given; and if Newt Miller prefers Green River to any other brand and calls it groceries that is right. We are inclined to think that the taxpayers will stand by State Auditor Donahey in the matter of refusing to pay such bills, unless so ordered by the supreme court. Mr. Donahey is a plain sort of a clodhopper from the hills of Tuscarawas, but he is honest through and through, and when he says Green River and such things are not necessaries of life we are inclined to believe he is right, all of the attorney generals that ever lived to the contrary notwithstanding.

Fortunately for the state administration the secretary of state did not take advantage of Mr. Turner's lead to declare invalid the pending referendum petitions. In this, as in other matters, Mr. Turner endeavored to read into the law things that were not there, after first having butted into the matter and trying to assume authority given plainly by statute to the common pleas courts.

The attorney general is proving a sad disappointment to his friends who thought him above petty, narrow partisanship.

Why the Panama Fair Has Succeeded.

The financial success of the Panama-Pacific exposition is a result that was hardly anticipated, at least outside California. World's fairs have commonly been great producers of a deficit. Why did California make such a record breaking success on the money side?

Of course the European war turned a large tide of travel to the West. But it's a long way to the pacific coast from the great American centers of population. The business from the populous Atlantic states must have been far less than the great fairs in the central states secured.

Every fair depends primarily on its home support, on the attendance of great crowds of people from within a radius of 500 miles. A great mass of these nearby people must attend and each pay a good many admissions, or any fair will go broke.

The people of California always manifest an intense spirit of state loyalty. Their state is to them the land of romance, opportunity, friendliness, a true alma mater of the great school of life. They talk, think, write, dream California. They feel a spirit of loyalty to state enterprises.

In the East this is apt to be confined to one's own town, and is frequently not given even to that.

Everyone in California who can acquire the price is seeing the fair. Many have no doubt borrowed the money to do it. It was a matter of state pride. These pictures of beauty and achievement for one's mind are the heritage of a life time. A state where that spirit exists can put out an unbelievable amount of money in a public enterprise. It all comes back and more too.

State loyalty is a fine sentiment. It gets big things done. It spends freely, but it brings rich rewards.

TAKE A LOOK

If You Have Time

If your ambition to gather it easily leads you into Wall Street, do not complain if, in the process of being trimmed, you suffer some pain. And this goes for all of the other get-rich-quick schemes.

You have no doubt noticed that the man who begins at the bottom often stays there.

More Americanism.

(New York World.)

In the uproar on all sides for and against the Anglo-French loan, the rights and interests of the United States receive little attention. Those who attack the loan do so as Germans or German sympathizers. Many who favor the loan do so on sentimental grounds alone as partisans of the allies.

If our pro-German faction had its way, not a cargo of goods would be sold or a dollar loaned to the enemies of the Kaiser, and there never would be a protest against the assassination of Americans at sea or conspiracy against our peace and industry at home.

If our anti-German faction had its way, provided we were not immediately rushed into war on the side of Great Britain, we should be expressing gratitude to that power for destroying or boycotting our neutral commerce, and when it came to lending money we should beg leave to accept any terms that the borrower might inflict.

The fact may be lost to sight at times, but back of these vociferous groups is a Nation, free, proud and resourceful, which is able and determined to regard all these questions from its own viewpoint and no other. In the matter of the proposed loan there is only one question: Is it to the advantage of the people of the United States to extend credit to their best customers? If so, the remonstrances of Germany's agents ought not to be and will not be heeded.

We have been pulled and hauled and bumped and thumped by the belligerents in European water until patience is well-nigh exhausted. To be subjected to the same processes in our own jurisdiction is intolerable. Submission to this sort of thing at home and abroad cannot fail to be deadly to our industry and commerce, and, more important than all else, to our self-respect.

The United States is not German and it is not British. Neither is it a Balkan principality to be alternately bullied and bribed, or a Chinese province to be overrun and divided into spheres of influence. There will be less foreign propaganda in this country when we have more Americanism, and, by the same token, we shall have fewer complications abroad.

The "County Fair" in China

(The Christian Work.)

Persons who find a delight in the "county fair" will appreciate a little story by Miss Rose Alice Mace, in The Woman's Missionary Friend, of "The Mintsing Fair," held in Mintsinghsien, China, on February 15. This fair has the distinction of being the only one of its kind in China. It is held on the spot where a temple once stood. A wealthy old gentleman who admired the spot and coveted it as a burial place for his family, by a clever ruse got the temple moved, and tombs for his ancestors safely erected when the deception he had employed was discovered, and the people determined upon revenge. There is a superstition prevalent here that if the grave of a person be trodden upon that person will be unfortunate through life. Therefore it was decided that on February 15 of each year the people of the surrounding neighborhood should meet and tramp on the graves of this man's friends. Later they began taking a few articles with them to exchange or sell. This gradually increased until now thousands of people meet there and bring all kinds of things for sale. The people seem to have about forgotten the original purpose of the gathering, and now think of it only from a social and business standpoint.

But the interesting thing to us is that the missionaries have taken advantage of the opportunity of so large a gathering for spreading the gospel. Benches with awnings are erected nearby, a large Chinese sign placed in a conspicuous place extending a cordial invitation to the people to come and listen to preaching and singing. Large Sunday school lesson pictures are exhibited, and smaller ones distributed containing the scripture texts, in Chinese, and so interest is maintained. "The people in general," says Miss Mace, "seemed pleased to have an opportunity of learning something of our belief and doctrine. Many seemed favorably impressed, and several seemed really interested and anxious to learn more about the great truth presented to them."

Spirit of the Press

"Spirited" Inanimation.

It is rather a joke on a United States Senator and former Governor, who signed a State-wide Prohibition law, when a "moonshine" whisky still locates itself a few hundred yards from his home; and the joke loses none of its point because the location was only a few yards further from the residence of the United State District Attorney, who is the official prosecutor of "moonshiners," and in additon to that an out-and-out Prohibitionist. However, the perversity of inanimate objects is proverbial. Who has not had experiences with the talent of a collar button to become invisible? And how many elderly persons have never fidgeted themselves into a sweat searching for a pair of spectacles lying under their noses or even perched over their eyebrows?—Philadelphia Record.

Plenty of Work in One City.

The strong and growing demand for labor in Cleveland and other centres of population is not so much the result of war orders for the products of factories, shops and mills as it is the natural fruit of the great harvests in nearly all sections of the country. The farms have done more than the manufacturing establishments, which have been turning out munitions for armies in Europe to take care of the wage-earners who were lately seeking employment.

It is better so. No can object to the largest possible crops which can be used or sold. The production of food staples makes a much more solid foundation than any distinctively war business can build for the continued prosperity and steady development of American industries. It is fortunate for uncounted millions of families in Europe, even more than in the United States, that this country has been able to do as much as it has done to feed the nations that do not produce food enough for their own needs.

The farmers af America have served humanity well this year.—Cleveland Leader.

What Our Small Army Costs.

Our Army is but fourteen per cent the size of the French army, yet costs us more than twice as much. It is but thirteen per cent as large as the German army and costs over half as much. It is but seven per cent as large as the army of Russia and costs thirty-seven per cent as much. Our army costs us $1,300 per capita, while no European country pays as much as $400. Naval figures reach almost the same proportions.

We look with considerable wonder and admiration upon the great guns which protect New York harbor. Our wonder does not cease when we know that the cost of firing one of these guns is $1,600 to $1,800, as much as a laborer can earn in two or more years.—Christian Herald.

People occasionally announce their intention of "summering" or "wintering" here or there, but oddly enough they never say they will "fall" or "spring" in any place in particular.—Duluth Herald.

LOSING GROUND.

Old Boose isslipping slowly, some day his graft unholy will fizzle out or burst; then all of us will totter to hydrants for water to slake our raging thirst. Old Booze his grip is losing, for workingmen are choosing to leave the suds alone; long years of earnest thinking has shown them how drinking good men has overthrown. Not sentimental speaking, not lurid platform shrieking, has brought this thing about; not irony or scoffing, not frantic John B. Coughing, has put Old Boooze to rout. An age of competition won't stand for the condition that Barleycorn entails; the world a weary stage is for one who blows his wages to open kegs of nails. Employers plead no longer with one whose breath is stronger than is a gas exhaust; they say, "You're quite too frisky; you're touching up the whisky, and so your job you've lost." No sentiment is wasted; if they suspect he's tasted a pannikin of beer, they fire him through the transom, his luck is also-ransome, he's in the street named Queer. So men of sense are quitting the touching up and hitting of all the drinks that foam; they drink from babbling brooklets, and have their savings booklets, and happy kids at home.

Alhambra All-Amateur Photo-Play Company

Here are the members of the Alhambra's picture play company who were recently chosen by readers of the Advocate and patrons of the Alhambra. They are now under the direction of Mr. Bennage engaged in producing a comedy drama "The Man Haters" which will be shown upon the screen at the Alhambra all next week beginning Oct. 4. The fifty odd scenes in the play are laid in and about Newark, including the thrilling rescue of "Ruth" by Henry" at Buckeye Lake. Reading from left to right in the picture top row: — Misses Grace Nolan, Dora Siegel, Hazel Athey, Decima Wooles.

Middle row —Misses Myrtle Duerr, Agnes Donovan, Tillie Jennings, Blanche Trost.

Vees Stock Here.

The Albert Vees stock company arrived this morning at 10:30 from Parkersburg, W. Va., where they enjoyed an excellent run of business during the past two weeks. It had been intentional for the company to get here yesterday but this was prevented, for the reason that there are no Sunday trains, out of Parkersburg toward Newark.

Mr. Veese upon his arrival here stated that he was sure glad to get back to Newark, which city he thinks a great deal of for reason that the residents here have always shown cordiality so far as he is concerned. The opening bill this evening is "The Only Son" and exceptionally high class bill. The performance will commence at 8:15 sharp and the same will continue throughout the week.

Chicago Grain
[ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM]

Chicago, Sept. 27.—Big receipts northwest had a weakening influence today on the wheat market. Prices were bolstered only for a short time by wet weather. Reports of decreasing stocks at Liverpool failed also to have any permanent effect. The opening which ranged from 2¾ decline to ⅜ to ½ advance with December at 94¾ to 95⅜ and May at 97@97¼, was followed by something of a rally but later the market showed a loss all around as compared with Saturday night's level.

Declines were minimized by the fact that notwithstanding liberal arrivals the accumulation of stocks was not up to what a majority of tracers appeared to expect. The close was unsettled ¼ to ¾ net lower with December at 94 and May at 96¾.

Corn sagged with wheat. At the start, however, the market displayed a little strength as a result of cold weather. After opening unchanged to ⅛ higher, prices underwent a moderate general setback.

Arrivals of Argentine corn at New York acted later as a handicap on the bulls. The close was heavy at ¼ to 1⅜ under Saturday night.

Smallness of offerings failed to steady oats.

Provisions hardened owing to a limited amount of buying on the part of commission houses. Packers selling checked the advance.

Wall Street
[ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM]

New York, Sept. 27.—Last week's general demand for investment stocks was resumed on a liberal scale today, specialties also figuring prominently. Pennsylvania made an initial gain of 1¼ at 114⅜ and St. Paul advanced 1¾ to 89. Harriman and Hill issues also were higher, some to the extent of a point. Baldwin Locomotive was the feature of the war group, opening with 1,800 shares at the new high quotation of 100 to 101, against last week's close of 95½, in connection with reports of a change of control. Anaconda copper rose 1⅛ to 74⅛, anticipating an increased dividend. Lacawanna Steel's gain of a point at 80 also marked a new record.

Baldwin rose later to 110½ and new records were made by Crucible Steel which advanced 7¼ to 103, Republic Steel 3⅝@52⅝, General Motors 15¼ to 360, Bethlehem Steel 10 to 366 and Texas Company seven to 171.

Other specialties whose companies are filling war contracts were one to five points higher. Railways failed to hold opening prices.

United States Steel retained its place as the active issue of the first hour in which the total overturn approximated 450,000 shares.

Bethlehem Steel Preferred was the only issue of its class to react, declining 10 to 160. Bonds were strong.

Advances Made In Oil Market
[ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM]

Lima, O., Sept. 27.—Partial advances were made here today in the oil market, Princeton and Illinois advancing three cents from $1.09 to $1.12; Pennsylvania and Corning participated in the rise quoted from the east but Mercer Black, New Castle, Cabell and Somerset ruled firm at Saturday's quotations.

WHO USE NO MEDICINE MUST APPLY BEFORE COMING THURSDAY.

Defiant Attitude Assumed Toward New Law by a Group of Cleveland Chiropractors.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM]

Columbus, Sept. 27.—Thursday, September 30 is the last day when the state medical board will accept applications from non-medical healers under the new Platt-Ellis law which provides for state regulation of a number of cults heretofore practicing without specific state authorization.

Announcement to this effect was made today by Dr. George H. Matson, secretary of the medical board. Plenty of time has been allowed for these applications, he explained and the board will refuse to receive any after the above date. Those not licensed by the board may not practice, he declared.

It was learned today that more than a dozen optometrists had applied for examination and license, though a stated organization of optometrists had taken action defying the state board and threatening to fight the law. A large proportion of chiropractors also have sent in their applications. Dr. Matson declared, despite a defiant attitude assumed by a group of these at a recent meeting in Cleveland.

Most members of the Ohio naturopathic physicians' association, the largest single organization group of non-medical healers, had filed their applications today. Dr. Matson said.

GERMANS REPORT BRITISH SHIPS WERE DAMAGED

[ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM]

Berlin, Sept. 27.—(By Wireless to Tuckerton, N. J.)—One British warship was sunk and two others damaged in the attack by a British squadron on German batteries along the Belgian coast especially at Zeebrugge, simultaneously with the launching of the allied new offensive movement on land according to the German official statement of September 26.

After these losses the British vessels withdrew.

The official statement enumerates the capture of more than 5,000 French and British prisoners and a number of machine guns in the land fighting at various points along the front.

The passages in the official statement which refer to these incidents of the fighting are as follows:

British ships attacked the German coast batteries, especially at Zeebrugge. The attack failed and after one ship had been sunk and two others damaged, the ships withdrew.

On the Ypres front, the enemy suffered heavy losses and attained no advantage. Two British officers and 100 men were captured and six machine guns were taken.

"The Germans voluntarily evacuated the ruins of the former Village of Souchez. Here 1,200 men were taken prisoner, including one English brigade commander and several officers and ten machine guns were captured. North of Mourmelon le Grand, and close to the western Argonne more than 3,750 French, of whom 39 were officers, were taken prisoner."

Damage Suit.

In common pleas court on Monday the court and a jury took up the trial of the case of George M. Hague vs. Ellis Jones. Plaintiff brings the suit to recover damages growing out of an assault and battery committed upon the plaintiff by the defendant in August, 1912. He asks for damages in the sum of $5,025.00.

Will Excuse Jurors.

The jurors will be excused from further attendance at the conclusion of the trial of Hague vs. Jones, until Oct. 11, after the adjournment of the court of appeals.

Queries and Replies Covering Matters of Importance to the Man Who Runs a Car

Is it common practice to regrind the cylinders when a motor is worn or is it better to get new pistons and rings?

All depends upon the condition of these parts. Sometimes it is advisable to regrind the cylinders, which is the case when they are worn oval. In this case the fitting of new pistons is a difficult job, and the previous troubles would return again. If the cylinders retain their circularity, then new pistons and rings may be fitted.

Is it a good plan to place graphite in the crank case with the regular oil?

Graphite shows excellent results when used as a lubricant for the motor. Its action is one of a filler, the minute holes in the cylinder being filled in with the graphite, thus reducing friction and wear. Some owners use ordinary flake graphite, while others prefer the deflocculated form.

There is a swishing sound issuing from the neighborhood of the right front wheel of my car when it is in motion. It seems to occur once every revolution. What can be causing it?

There are two very likely causes of such a noise. It may be due to the speedometer gears meshing too tightly or the demountable rim has a wedge loose. Jack up the wheel and rotate it slowly, and you can soon determine whether the gears are too close. If this is the case loosen up the arm that carries the driven gear and move the gear only far enough away so that the noise is eliminated. If the trouble is not found in the speedometer gears tighten up the wedges on the rim. One loose wedge will make a noise similar to that you have described, due to the lack of support at this point.

What, in your opinion, is the best way to crank a motor, with the throttle open or nearly closed?

It is preferable to crank the motor with the throttle only opened a small amount, say an inch or an inch and a quarter movement on the quadrant. With some carburetors it is impossible to start the motor with the throttle wide open, while with others it is generally done with difficulty.

I have always been bothered with motor knocking when throttle was opened on a hard pull, necessitating my retarding the spark to the extreme limit, and that, of course, reduced power. I have been told that it was caused by too high compression. Will it help matters to reduce compression by raising the cylinder and placing a plate beneath to make a larger compression space?

The high compression reason which has been assigned to your case is very possibly correct, although it might be that carbon trouble is at the bottom of the difficulty. If you have noticed that the knocking continues even after the motor has been cleaned of carbon it is probably due to the high compression or to a loose connecting rod, wrist pin or crank shaft bearing or part. It is never a good idea to reduce compression until you are sure that it is too high, and it will be better to have this measured by gauge and see what it really is before attempting to cut it down by means of a plate. A compression pressure of seventy pounds is sufficient, and for ordinary purposes you should not have higher than this. If it is below this a reduction of compression will reduce the power correspondingly, as it influences the mean effective pressure in the cylinder.

If a motor is equipped with a high tension magneto, does each cylinder receive alternately one effective spark and one surplus spark?

The ordinary four cylinder high tension magneto only produces sparks when required—that is, at the beginning of the working stroke. Such a magneto produces a spark every half revolution of the armature, and therefore by connecting it to the motor so that it revolves at the same speed just the right number of sparks are generated, since a four cylinder, four cycle motor requires a spark every half revolution. These sparks are distributed to the proper cylinders in turn by means of a rotating brush which makes consecutive contact with the four segments which are connected to the high tension wires running to each of the four cylinders. The distributer runs at half the speed of the armature, and the two are positively connected by gears. The two are so set that the brush is in contact with one of the segments when the breaker points separate and the spark occurs.

Will you kindly give me any information you can on soldering aluminium?

Aluminium is soldered by the use of a blowtorch. A solder which may be used without a flux is composed of seventy-five and five-tenths parts of tin, eighteen parts of zinc and two and five-tenths parts of aluminium. The parts should be slightly heated before applying. The solder should be forced in place by means of a stiff metal brush. Another solder which requires a flux, however, is made up of 80 per cent tin and 20 per cent zinc, stearic acid being used as a flux. The objection to soldering aluminium is that the joint is not very strong.

Will you please furnish me with some information regarding brazing processes?

Brazing metals, which means that they are joined by a film of brass, requires a red heat and borax is generally used as a flux to protect the metal from oxidation and to dissolve the oxides formed. Heating must be done by means of a blowtorch, gas forge, coke or charcoal furnace and cannot be done by means of a soldering iron. Before work is assembled for brazing it should be carefully cleaned. The parts are then fastened together, generally by pinning, but sometimes wire bolts or clamps are used. If possible the pieces should be fastened in such a way that the work may be turned over during the process of brazing without changing the relation of the parts.

My motor does not fire regularly. Sometimes it misses on one cylinder and then again two become affected. The missing skips from one cylinder to another. Position of gas and spark levers does not seem to make any difference, and the trouble is equally bad on magneto and battery. Can you explain this?

The missing is undoubtedly caused by faulty ignition or carburetion, and it seems more likely that the former is the cause. First look for short circuits. Operate the motor in the dark at a moderate rate of speed and note whether any sparks jump from any part of the wiring to the motor or frame. Inspect the insulation of all the wires for worn or broken spots where a short circuit to the frame might be produced. Any such spots should be taped or the wires replaced. Next examine the brushes on the magneto. Any that are worn on the ends should be smoothed off or replaced so that a good electrical contact is obtained. See that the breaker points are smooth enough to meet squarely and in adjustment—that is, the gap between them, when they are separated, should be between one-thirty-second and one-sixty-fourth of an inch. Also note whether the insulation in the breaker box is in good condition and whether there is any possibility of a short circuit either due to this or dirt or oil. Take the switch apart and examine the insulation and tighten any loose parts.

Providing all electrical connections are tight and the gaps of spark plugs adjusted to one-thirty-second of an inch, the trouble must be either in the carburetion system or in the coil or magneto.

Assuming that the carbureter adjustment is correct, see that there are no air leaks in the intake manifold. Look for dirt in the gasoline system and see that the float is not soaked with gasoline and that the needle valve and float valve or their seats are not worn.

While you may drive with the spark lever properly advanced and the magneto may be correctly timed, it is possible that the linkage connecting the spark lever with the magneto is loose, so that when the lever is advanced the breaker box is not acted upon.

See that the lubrication system is in proper working order and check up the valve timing.

What is the cause of carbon?

Carbon deposit is caused by the carbon in the oil or gasoline being set free by the heat of combustion. If the mixture is too rich there will not be enough air for combustion of all the carbon in the gasoline, and therefore after the explosion takes place some carbon in the form of a very fine powder will remain. This is caught by the oil on the walls of the combustion chamber, and the heat gums the oil, holding the carbon until the final result is a hard mass of carbon held together by a tough, cement-like gummed oil. In the same way, if too much oil is fed to the motor, an excess reaches the combustion chamber, and the heat burns part of it, but leaves some of the carbon, which remains on the wall until removed.

My car starts badly. It has a four cylinder, 4.25x5.5 inch motor, but only a magneto for ignition. The motor works evenly when once under way. If it can be started rolling down grade and then thrown into gear it starts readily enough. Can you suggest a remedy for the trouble?

Your magneto is probably causing the trouble, although it is well to make sure that the difficulty does not lie in the carbureter adjustment or is not due to leaky valves. See that the spark plugs' points are 1-32 inch apart, that all connections are tight and that there are no short circuits. Then examine the breaker points on the magneto. File them until they meet squarely, and then adjust them until the motor runs evenly at all speeds. The exact distance depends upon the magneto, but should be somewhere between 1-32 and 1-64 inch. If the points are too far apart the motor will not start or will miss at slow speeds, while if the points are too near together it will miss at high speeds. There is also a chance that the magnets are weak. If so it will be difficult to obtain a spark at low motor speeds. Make sure that all the brushes are making good contact.

TEACH FARMERS ABOUT SOIL BY CORRESPONDENCE

OHIO STATE'S INNOVATION IS PROVING A SUCCESS BEYOND EXPECTATIONS.

First Day Witnessed Three Hundred Letters of Inquiry and Enrollments.

[Special to The Advocate]

Columbus, Sept. 27.—Soil fertility is the branch of farming included in the 22 correspondence courses being started by the Ohio State University which has the largest beginning enrollment. Three hundred letters of inquiry and applications for courses were received last Monday from all parts of the state from men in cities and the country who wished to enter courses at once or to get the bulletin describing and outlining the courses offered

In the Extension Service department of the University, the work of classifying and assorting the applications, answering letters of inquiry and sending out bulletins is going on, preparatory to the actual beginning of instructional work. The courses will be conducted through the department, and the assistance of the faculty will be available.

Dairying, poultry husbandry, farm buildings and farm power are other courses that are getting many applications The beginning lesson is first sent to the student. After it has been studied and the questions answered, returned, graded and sent back to the student for correction, the next lesson is at once forwarded.

Editors throughout the state have commented editorially upon the new project of the university in scattering throughout Ohio the benefits and influence of the agricultural college through the mail That there will be thousands of fireside colleges this winter in the rural districts of the Buckeye state is the prediction of one editor who urges that his readers "get in the front row,—before the neighbors get the firse benefits" Applications and requests for the bulletin on the project should be addressed to J. E McClintock, director of Ohio State University, Columbus, O.

The instant approval that has been given the new project of extending the facilities offered by the state through the agricultural college faculty by means of correspondence courses has been shown, not only by the flood of applications but also by the editorial approval of the papers of the state. The project has been heralded as the most significant step undertaken in agricultural instruction during the past 20 years

The course in poultry husbandry at present leads in having the largest number of applications. Dairying, alfalfa culture, soil fertility and farm buildings are other courses that are bringing forth hundreds of inquiries since the announcement was made two weeks ago of the begnning of the correspondence project.

There is no charge to the courses. They are offered to any resident of the state interested in farming.

PRISONERS TO BE TAUGHT FARMING.

Columbus, Sept 27.—To make farmers out of prisoners is the newest scheme of Warden P. E. Thomas of the Ohio Penitentiary, and there is every indication that he will be successful. Within 48 hours after he announced to the 1500 or more prisoners in his keeping that he would provide free scholarships for all who cared to become expert farmers, more than 100 asked for the right to enter The study will be the course at the Ohio State University, arrangements having been made with the trustees of that institution to give the prisoners free tuition These prisoners will get the advantage of actual farm experience on some of the state's dozen or more farms, and with the study and teaching of the best teachers in the country there is no reason to doubt but what one of the biggest problems of prison life has been solved To get work for prisoners upon their release has alway been a most difficult task Employers are slow about giving work to any man who has a prison record. If they become practical and expert farmers however they will be placed in good positions for the demand for good farm help is getting better each year.

COULD NOT STAND ON FEET

Mrs. Baker So Weak—Could Not Do Her Work—Found Relief In Novel Way.

Adrian, Mich. — "I suffered terribly with female weakness and backache and got so weak that I could hardly do my work. When I washed my dishes I had to sit down and when I would sweep the floor I would get so weak that I would have to get a drink every few minutes, and before I did my dusting I would have to lie down. I got so poorly that my folks thought I was going into consumption. One day I found a piece of paper blowing around the yard and I picked it up and read it. It said 'Saved from the Grave,' and told what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done for women. I showed it to my husband and he said, 'Why don't you try it?' So I did, and after I had taken two bottles I felt better and I said to my husband, 'I don't need any more,' and he said 'You had better take it a little longer anyway.' So I took it for three months and got well and strong." — Mrs ALONZO E. BAKER, 9 Tecumseh St, Adrian, Mich.

Not Well Enough to Work.

In these words is hidden the tragedy of many a woman, housekeeper or wage earner who supports herself and is often helping to support a family, on meagre wages. Whether in house, office, factory, shop, store or kitchen, woman should remember that there is one tried and true remedy for the ills to which all women are prone, and that is Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. It promotes that vigor which makes work easy. The Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co, Lynn, Mass.

True Secret of Keeping Youthful Looking

(The Beauty Seeker)

"The real secret of keeping young-looking and beautiful," says a well-known hygienist, "is to keep the liver and bowels normally active. Without these requisites, poisonous waste products remain in the system, polluting the blood and lodging in various organs, tissues, joints. One becomes flabby, obese, nervous, mentally sluggish, dull-eyed, wrinkled and sallow of face.

"But to get liver and bowels working as they ought, without producing evil after-effects, has been the problem. Fortunately, there is a prescription of unquestioned merit, which may now be had in convenient tablet form. Its value is due largely to an ingredient derived from the humble May apple, or its root, which has been called 'vegetable calomel' because of its effectiveness—though of course it is not to be classed with the real calomel of mercurial origin. There is no habit-forming constituent in 'sentanel' tablets—that's the name—and their use is not followed by weakness or exhaustion. On the contrary, these harmless vegetable tablets tend to impart tone and elasticity to the relaxed intestinal wall. Sentanel tablets, which may be procured from any druggist—a dime's worth will do—will prove a revelation to any constipated, liver-troubled person."

Chief Cause of Pimples, Blotches, Sallow Skin

(Messenger of Health.)

Unsightly eruptions, pimples, boils, blotches, sallow or muddy skin, usually are due to a sluggish liver, a constipated bowel—and a polluted blood stream as a consequence. How foolish in such cases to resort to outward applications, which can never have natural, permanent results. If more people only knew it, there is a very simple remedy, to be found in any drug store, which is as effective as it is harmless and quick acting. It is an old formula, long recognized by the medical profession, which has been put in tablet form, and at such small cost no one need now be deprived of its wonderful benefits.

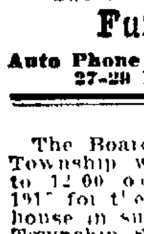

"Sentanel tablets"—that's the name—are entirely vegetable and there's no habit-forming ingredient. You need only get about a dime's worth, and swallow one at bedtime to realize there's nothing else quite so good for the purpose. The action in the morning is so easy, so soothing, and instead of a weakening effect, you feel truly refreshed and invigorated. Sentanel tablets are not only the finest remedy known for constipation and torpid liver, but offer the safest, most sensible treatment for complexion difficulties of the character mentioned.

Great Demand for New Constipation Remedy

They say that the advent of the "sentanel tablet" as a vegetable substitute for calomel has resulted in an extraordinary demand for this remarkable product. It seems to have made a hit particularly with those afflicted with chronic constipation, who were quick to recognize its advantages over calomel and the usual laxatives.

Sentanel tablets, aside from their efficacy, doubtless owe their success largely to a tendency to aid in bringing about natural functioning—instead of encouraging the "cathartic habit." Also, instead of injuring the membraneous lining of the organs involved, they exert a healing influence. Instead of weakening, they add tone to the intestinal wall. And they work so easily and surely, they are of course preferred on this account to the violently acting purgatives. Their inexpensiveness is another reason for the popularity of sentanel tablets. One need procure only a dime's worth, and take one tablet upon retiring, to be convinced that the ideal remedy for constipation, torpid liver, and their many evil consequences, has finally been found.—Druggists Review.

WATCH YOUR STEP! AND WIN GRACE

In Going Upstairs or Coming Downstairs Keep Body Poised as in Pose Herewith Illustrated by Miss Jean Henderson.

If we can turn our street car riding and stair climbing into a practical and beneficial exercise it will certainly be more than ever worth while, count Article XXI written for the Advocate's development series by Anna Louise Shafer shows how this may be done.

By Anna Louise Shafer.

(Copyright 1915 by James Keeley.)

Individuality is a subtle thing—that is what makes it so interesting—it is a state of mind given outward expression. By the outward expression one wins or loses. We can change our states of mind just as we can change our attires. If not in a harmonious frame of mind then assume a harmonious attitude and note the reaction.

In a gripping story in one of our current magazines a romantic youth said to the maiden whose subtle charms were driving him to another Do you know why I love you? Because you remind me of the [illegible] Lake—no that isn't it, [illegible] walk like a queen. In [illegible] (a daily paper) touches for [illegible] of the story a young man [illegible] with a girl [illegible] [illegible] because he liked the way she stepped off the car." An [illegible] grace and charm given out [illegible] and expression consistently.

Watch your steps — they turn your minds inside out and show their linings. Have grace in your step, heaven in your eye, in every motion dignity —and love will find you out, according to the latest newspaper reports.

Incidentally, this is to tell you something about the best way to step off the car or come down the ball of the footshrdlushrdlurdluhrd stairs — lightly but firmly on the ball of the foot, ready for easy transference of weight to avoid contact with a crowd.

In going upstairs or coming down be sure that it is done on a full breath and with torso held erect from the hips to offset the strain on the heart. In this way stair-climbing may constitute a good exercise. Never run up—it is wasting time.

Standing in a street car you may avoid all strain and obviate the necessity of hanging on a strap, and preserve your equilibrium and poise, by swaying the weight with the motion of the car. Try it.

Lesson XXI.

Standing on a stool, see how lightly, easily and gracefully you can step down holding the body erect. Practice stepping up and down with rhythmic breathing—one, two, up, hold one, one, two, down, exhaling.

In Milady's Boudoir

By Gwen Sears

Every woman may add certain so-called luxuries to her bath at trifling expense. Soaps are too drying in many cases and are responsible to a distressing shine to the skin for others and even the best toilet soaps affect some skins in this manner. Bags filled with bran, orris root and almond meal cleanse and beautify the skin. They remove roughness and refine the texture.

Cheese cloth bags about five or six inches square are made and filled according to directions. Here is a good formula. One-half a pound of oatmeal, four ounces of powdered orris root to a pound of bran is sufficient for a simple combination.

Another formula contains oatmeal, powdered orris root, almondmeal and powdered Castile soap.

Not many women thing of a bath as a means of concouring unstrung nerves but there are a number of excellent baths for just this purpose. A simple one includes two ounces of tincture camphor one ounce of benzoin, and four ounces of rectified spirits. Mix thoroughly and pour into the bath sufficient to make the water milky and have a slight fragrance. Soap of an excellent quality may be used in this, or just step into your bath, remaining there for fifteen minutes, frequently sponging the parts of the body above the water, the face, neck, shoulders, and arms.

All baths should be taken slowly, relaxing the nerves and muscles and giving onesself up to the enjoyment of the hour. After the usual bath draw a little water in the tub and add a little liquid to sponge the body thoroughly. The alternative to this is to use the atomizer in spraying.

Avoid heavy perfumes, and should you have any too strong, dilute with a little alcohol.

AFTER YOU ARE FORTY

Forty is the age of greatest effort with most people. Vitality is used up at the most rapid pace. The struggle to secure a competence for old age produces nerve strain, the failure to succeed causes worry, nervous breakdown, neurasthenia.

Middle-aged people find that they cannot run as fast, nor are they as agile as in youth. The internal organs also feel the effect of age. The digestion resents things that it accepted before, the heart palpitates on slight exertion, the muscles of the back ache after a day's work. Your blood is thinner and not so bright a red as formerly.

When these things occur, whether you are fourteen or forty, you need a tonic. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills suit most people's need because they are non-alcoholic and they really build up the blood and strengthen the nerves. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are useful for growing children and for men and women whose nervous energy has been overdrawn. They are certainly worthy of a trial in every case of weak nerves and thin blood.

Your druggist sells Dr. Williams' Pink Pills or they will be sent by mail, postpaid, on receipt of price, 50 cents per box, six boxes $2.50 by the Dr. Williams Medicine Co, Schenectady, N. Y. Write today for free booklets on the blood and nerves.

Every Day Etiquette

"How shall I announce the birth of my baby?" asked Mrs. Youngmother anxiously.

"The etiquette of birth announcements is definite," answered her mother. "The folded sheet of pale blue or pale pink bordered note paper contains the arrival, the date and the weight, and the names of the parents. It is sent out within twenty four hours after the birth to every immediate relative and to all intimate friends. The sheet exactly fits into a two by two and a half-inch envelope also with a narrow colored border."

No sheep, cattle, horses, poultry and human show like the Licking county fair, near Newark, Ohio, Sept. 28, 29, 30 and Oct. 1.

For the Children.
The Advocate has a picture in today's issue that will interest the kiddies. In fact this picture is printed especially for the children. The picture is two columns wide and is headed "Look Here Kiddies," and is entitled "What sort of a house has Noodle drawn?" The answer is found by drawing a line through the dots, beginning at No. 1 and taking them numerically. Tomorrow and every day this week there will be a puzzle picture for the little folk.

Announce Birth.
Born to Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Nethers, of St. Louisville Sunday afternoon a ten pound son.

Plans Hunting Trip.
Newark nimrods had better get a move on themselves and get out after the pesky little squirrels if they care to bag any more this season for today it was discovered that Max Winkler was buying up all the ammunition in the city preparatory to a several days' hunt. Mr. Winkler is a good shot, in fact he is among the best in the state and if necessary could show several medals, which he received for trap shooting several years ago when he ranked among the professionals.

Called Meeting.
There will be a called meeting of the G. I. A. this evening at 7 o'clock at the B. of L. E. Business of importance to transact and a large attendance is desired.

Begged From Wrong Man.
A man under the influence of drink approached Mayor Bigbee on the street Saturday night and asked for money and when told that city ordinances prohibited begging, he used some picturesque profanity which resulted in his arrest. He was fined for intoxication and the charge of begging was not pressed. Six other drunks were fined, as were two men charged with train riding.

Goes to Akron.
George Stewart of Eddy street has gone to Akron where he has taken a position in one of the rubber manufacturies in that city.

Autoed To Somerset.
Col. and Mrs. Wm. Hohl of West Church street and their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Hohl, Jr., autoed to Somerset Sunday and spent the day with friends. Col. Hohl was taken down into one of the clay mines where the earth is blasted to secure clay for pottery. He states that he never wants to get into any closer proximity with the infernal regions again. The trip was an enjoyable one, barring the rain which fell continuously for several hours.

Bailey Hearing Postponed.
The hearing of the charges filed against W. Prescott Bailey, former manager of the Auditorium, charged with issuing a check when he had no funds in the bank, has been continued until the arrival of the young man's mother from the East. It is possible that the case will be settled.

Attending Encampment.
Col. and Mrs. H. D. Burch of Hebron left Newark on Sunday evening to attend the National Encampment of the Grand Army of the Republic held in Washington, D. C., this week. Mr. Burch's regiment will hold a reunion during the encampment and Mrs. Burch has special duties in the Womans' Relief Corps.

M. E. Foreign Missionary.
There will be a called meeting of the officers and group leaders of the Foreign Missionary Society of the First M. E. church, in the Directors' room of the Home Building Association, Tuesday afternoon at 2:30. Use West Main street entrance to bank.

Sudan Grass Thrifty.
Kent Brothers, Church street seed merchants, have on exhibition a bunch of sudan grass, a new forage grass, grown for the first time in this county. The grass is seven feet in height and grows very thick. It can be harvested several times during the season and is said to be an excellent substitute for hay.

Announce Birth.
Born to Mr. and Mrs. William Ashley of Chillicothe, a nine pound daughter on Sunday.

Baptist Young People.
The Baptist Young People Union of the Fifth Street Baptist church will give a social at the home of Miss Maud Sanford, 251 Granville street. Tuesday evening at 7:30 o'clock all Baptists and their friends are invited. An offering will be taken for the benefit of the B. Y. P. U.

Cyclist Escaped Injury.
A motorcycle ridden by a young man who gave his name as Divine, collided with the automobile of Dr. L. C. Sparks in front of the M. E. church in Fifth street Sunday evening. Divine escaped with a few minor scratches. The motorcycle collided with the machine as it turned off Fifth street, entering the driveway between the church and parsonage.

Interesting Pictures.
J. B. Klunk of Detroit, an expert asphalt man, will exhibit motion pictures at the Y. M. C. A. Hall Thursday evening of the different stages which asphalt passes through from mining it at the lake to laying it on the streets as a finished product. All citizens are invited, especially those residing along Hudson avenue, together with all city officials, members of the city council and all who may be interested in improved streets or thoroughfares.

JUDGE JEWELL TO HOLD COURT HERE THIS WEEK

Judge H. W. Jewell, of Delaware, arrived in the city this morning for the purpose of holding court here this week. He will take up the hearing of the case of the City of Newark vs. The Franklin National Bank, which was partially tried some weeks since. The suit is brought to recover interest upon city funds deposited with the defendant Bank.

On Official Business.
Sheriff Stevens of Logan county transacted business in the city today and spent several hours in being shown over the city by local officials. Sheriff Stevens reports the crops in the southern part of the state as doing fine and states that the city of Logan is in a very prosperous condition.

SCHOOL BOY

Dies From Injuries Received While at Practice With Team Mates Playing Football.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM]

Lima, O., Sept. 27.—Don Applas, aged 15, candidate for guard position on the Lima high school football team died early this morning as the result of an injury sustained during tackle practice four days ago. He received a scratch on the temple in tackling the dummy. Blood-poisoning set in and on Saturday an antitoxin for lockjaw had to be administered. Applas was a sophomore.

His team mates will act as pall-bearers at the funeral Wednesday morning.

NOTED OUTLAW IS CAPTURED IN NORTH CAROLINA

[ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM]

Asheville, N. C., Sept. 27.—Ed Williams, noted outlaw, was captured last night near Robbinsville, Graham county, by Sheriff Ammons, according to advices received here today. Williams, who was officially declared an outlaw by Judge Ferguson recently, is charged with the murder of his wife, brother-in-law and mother-in-law some time ago and is also charged with complicity in the recent murder of his father-in-law, Philip Phillips, at Robbinsville, for which Hardy Wiggins and Merritt Miller are under sentence to die. Williams is reported to have confessed to the murder of Phillips and to have exonerated Miller and Wiggins.

A bureau of labor has been established at Winnipeg.

U. S. JURY IS HERE TODAY TO VIEW P. O. SITE

A. U. S. district court jury in charge of court officials, arrived in Newark this afternoon to view the premises in the suit by the government against the city for the condemnation of the Sherwood Park site, wanted for the new federal building here.

The city is fighting the condemnation suit on the ground that the property was left the city on condition that it never be used for building purposes.

Jurors are: Matthew Beman, Idaho; J. Charles Criswell, Mt. Gilead; Lou E. Eyman, Lancaster; George Foster, McConnelsville; A. D. Guthrie, Columbus; T. J. Griffith, Delaware; J. C. Groves, Barnesville; J. R. Hott, Ashville; Charles E. Munson, Columbus; Alexander Smith, Zanesville; Edward Thompson, London; Charles E. Wharton, Enterprise.

The city asks compensation for the property in case the government takes it to enlarge the building site purchased several years ago. The Sherwood company, owners of the hotel adjoining the federal and park sites is a party to the suit, asking damages in case the government streets erects the building proposed.

Solicitor Ralph Norpell and Attorney Roderick Jones represent the city in the suit and Mr. Jones, C. W. Miller and A. T. Seymour of Columbus, represent the Sherwood company. The government is represented by the district attorney.

The hearing will start in Columbus tomorrow morning.

COUNTY TROT ON PROGRAM AT TOMORROW'S FAIR

The county trot will come off tomorrow as scheduled is the announcement of fair officials today. The race is scheduled for tomorrow afternoon and Licking county horses will compete for the purse. These horses have all been in matinee races and the event will be well worth witnessing. The big fair opens its gates tomorrow and the indications are that a large crowd will be out to get a glimpse at some of the county's fast steppers in action.

NEWARK MEN ARE AMONG OFFICERS OF YACHT CLUB

At a meeting held Sunday at the club house at Buckeye Lake, the Buckeye Lake Yacht club elected officers to serve for the next year. The officers include a number of Newark men. The officers are:

Commodore—W. L. Whittaker, Columbus.

Vice Commodore—L. C. Burnham, Columbus.

Rear Commodore—H. D. Doane, Newark.

Secretary—G. B. Nutter, Columbus.

Treasurer—Allen Pyne, oColumbus.

Governors—H. C. Holbrook and Mr. Ball of Columbus and D. H. Alspach of Newark.

OCCUPANTS OF CAR WERE THROWN INTO A DITCH

A big Cadillac touring car from Columbus skidded and went into the ditch along side the road west of this city pitching out several of the occupants. The car had been driven to this city and a young gentleman employed in a tonsorial parlor of the Arcade with a couple of lady friends were invited out for a little ride. When the car was ditched one of the girls was thrown out and skidded along the road scraping off quite a portion of skin on the left side of the body. Quite a few people who heard that "Shorty" Wagoner had been injured in an auto wreck Sunday afternoon called at the Curry shop in the Arcade but were confronted by "Shorty" with his same old smile. He was not disfigured or lame and denies that he was one of the party in the "spill."

RECEIVER IS APPOINTED FOR THE M. K. & T.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM]

Dallas, Texas, Sept. 27.—Charles E. Schaff, president of the Missouri, Kansas and Texas railroad system, was appointed receiver for the Missouri, Kansas and Texas railroad of Texas, by Judge Meek in the district court here this afternoon.

The receivership suit was filed by attorneys on behalf of D. B. Hussey who styles himself a general creditor of the company, acting for himself and others.

WILL PROSECUTE ALL THOSE WHO WATER OYSTERS

STATE INSPECTION BEGINS IN 10 DAYS AND SAMPLES WILL BE TAKEN

Cooks and Employes in Restaurants Are Also to be Investigated by Department.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM]

Columbus, O., Sept. 27.— Oyster waterers beware" This notice was issued by Thomas L. Calvert, chief inspector of the dairy and food division today preliminary to a campaign by his department against dealers who sell oysters containing more than the proper amount of liquid. Inspectors will start within 10 days Oysters containing less than 11 per cent solid matter may be suspected of having been watered, Mr. Calvert declared, and dealers who sell them are liable to prosecution.

The usual means of adulteration, it was explained is to drain the natural juice off oysters and let them stand in water over night The next morning this water is taken off and again they are placed in their natural liquid Meanwhile they absorb water, and occupy considerably more space. Analysis of oyster samples collected by food inspectors will be made by state chemists to ascertain the exact amount of solids.

Another cleanup of restaurants is planned by the dairy and food inspection department.

"We have found many evidences of unsanitary conditions in restaurant kitchens particularly in smaller cities of the state, said Chief Inspector Calvert "In some cases cooks afflicted with dangerous diseases have been employed Proprietors of such establishments will have to clean up or we will prosecute them to the full extent of the law Our inspectors also have been instructed to watch closely the general physical cleanliness of restaurant employes and to see that cooks wear caps

Readers' View Point

Automobile "Don't."

Editor of The Advocate—I saw a good cartoon in a newspaper yesterday It was entitled 'Automobile Don'ts No 7 and pictured a woman and child stepping from a street car almost in front of an automobile Below were these words

"Don't try to squeeze in between the curbing and people who are trying to board or alight from a street car. and DON'T go whizzing around on the other side in order to keep from slowing up or stopping In the first place, both acts are against the law, and in the second place, they are both very dangerous things to do."

Why wouldn't this be a good thing for the welfare and protection of the traveling public, in Newark" This is something which is unobserved in our thriving city.

A CITIZEN.

Punishment.

Editor of the Advocate —If any of your readers are possessed with the notion that severe "punishment" constitutes the only proper treatment for all wrongdoers—except ourselves, of course'—I would commend to all such persons the following quotation from the distinguished novelist, George W Cable

"It is impossible for any finite mind to fix the degree of criminality of any human act or any human life The Infinite One alone can know how much of our sin is chargeable to us, and how much to our brothers or our fathers There is a community of responsibility attaching to every misdeed. No human being since Adam—nay, not even Adam himself ever sinned entirely unto himself; for we all participate in one another's sins Hence, I am never called upon to contemplate a crime or a criminal but I feel my conscience pointing at me as one of the accessories"

Many persons no doubt would regard this utterance of Mr Cable as too idealistic and sentimental for either edification or practical application; but to my mind it is the language of truth and soberness It is scientific; it is philosophical; it is psychological And I am almost ready to pronounce it the chief cornerstone of Christian ethics.

And at the same time when it is reasonably interpreted, I can find nothing in it that conflicts with the faithful ad-enforcement of criminal law and the adoption of whatever measures are necessary for the protection of society and the promotion of the public welfare

M R. SCOTT.

A Mother's Complaint.

Editor of the Advocate —As a taxpayer I have something to say in regard to the schools. You can't print the following too strong for me and rest of the parents that have children in the East Main street school.

Maxine Leedale was hit on the head close to the ear by a swing and it took ten minutes to bring her to. How many parents feel safe in sending their children to school when such accidents as that happen? I for one do not intend to send mine Thousand times rather they grow up ignorant than be an invalid or spend the rest of their lives in an asylum. If the board must have swings and giant strides let them be fenced off to themselves. A girl had her arm broken last year and the bones came through. Others fainted when they saw it. Is that what we parents are sending our children to school for? Every shop and factory has safety first mottoes. Why not the schools?

Nearly sixty members entered into organization of the North Side Church of Christ, corner of Stevens and Hollander street.

Yesterday afternoon the North Side Church of Christ members met and elected officers constituting a corporate body.

Almost sixty members are now members of the North Side church and with such a body of workers, a new building and a fine field for labor the continued prosperity and progress of the church seems assured.

Notwithstanding the rain of last evening the attendance was large and the evangelist preached upon the theme, "Secret Discipleship." He said that several motives led to secret discipleship, among which are lack of self confidence, fear of what persons will say, unwillingness to give up questionable amusements and disinclination to assume any added obligation.

The call to the Master's service is one to open avowal. (1) Spiritual welfare demands exercise and food. The light hidden under the bushel will either burn through or go out. (2) Loyalty to a cause demands it. The soldier must wear the uniform. He must show his colors; so the soldier of Jesus must not be ashamed of his religion. (3) His love constrains us. He publicly bore the ridicule and mockery and anguish of crucifixion for us. We should therefore openly avow our loyalty to Him. (4) Simple justice demands it. Disloyalty, sin, has been open. Allegiance, righteousness should likewise be open.

The singing for the occasion was good, and the services as a whole very helpful.

Tonight the subject will be "The Second Coming of Christ,"—a fascinating theme. The general public should avail itself of this opportunity of hearing this subject treated.

Special songs as usual.

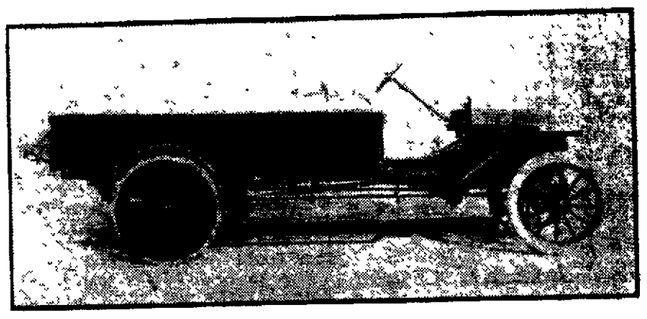

Jacksontown Grange

The work of the meeting last Friday night was very helpful to the sisters as well as the brothers. A hearty reponse to roll call, on some improvements needed in the community. These are some of the suggestions: public library, first grade high school, ball diamond, room for basket ball, basement room to Town Hall for banquets, etc.

Bro. A. L. Norton's talk was very interesting and helpful to the members. Subject, some books farmers should read, and magazines that farmers wives and daughters should read. First, farmers should thoroughly qualify on fertilizers and kinds of soil; second, advantages and disadvantages of borrowing money; third, visit experiment stations at least three days' each year, and fourth, how to buy and sell.

At our next meeting, Friday, October 8, 7:30 p. m., there will be an initiation of a class in the first and second degrees.

Auto Truck Which Is Being Manufactured In This City By the Jewett Car Company

The accompanying picture is that of the new light one-ton auto truck which is being made by the Jewett Car company in West Newark, and which is being distributed by The Hess Auto Co, in East Main street. The salient points of the truck were described in a recent issue of tht Advocate. It undoubtedly will become a factor in the auto truck world within a very short time.

It's false economy to use cheap-looking stationery. You can't go wrong if the Advocate prints it
